Subject: ERATE 470 response

Good Morning Karen,

I just talked to you on the phone about your 470 and I wanted to give you some information about IKON.

IKON currently provides technical services Window Rock USD, Ganado USD, and Chinle USD. Chinle was a very small project but I had to list it anyway. We provide data network, Voice over IP, Video over IP, and maintenance for K-12 schools. I have been working K-12 schools technology for seven years. I understand some of the special challenges faced by the teachers and administrative staff in education. Each project is segmented into five areas:

Discovery - Learn everything that touches this project.

Design - What is the right solution that will meet the requirements without gold plating the project.

Planning - When should equipment be ordered to meet the schools time schedule. What engineers with what skill sets are required.

Implementation - Actually installing the equipment and software. This step is usually very easy because of all the upfront work. Most implementations work correctly on the initial install. The ones that don't usually only require minor adjustments and are caused by changes in the environment after the Discovery.

Support - This can be as simple as warranty support like we supply at Window Rock USD or as involved as regular maintenance like we supply at Ganado USD.

I am including Matt Bundy in this email for wiring issues. Matt works for a company called ComLink. IKON supplies everything from the wall out. ComLink supplies everything inside the wall. ComLink has done extensive work in Northern Arizona and is the only company that I have received a complement from a building inspector about. The building inspector couldn't find anything wrong and that was a first for him.

Please provide contact information for specifications, prebid conference's and site survey opportunities. Anything that will allow us to more accurately provide a proposal for this project.

Thanks for your time.

Hi Karen,
Here is some information that you might need concerning our contracts.
CLH International Inc. contract numbers-
CES Contract# 99009
MESC Contract# 98-CLH-0306
GSA Contract# GSA-35F-3055D
Az. State Contract# AD990005-005

I tried to call John at Red Mesa to see if there are any special hardware requirements on the PC's for NETC. However his voice mail picked up and I left a message. I also found the NETVain web page listing the school districts utilizing NETC. It has the phone numbers for the district offices but no contact person to get in touch with. Would you happen to have a list of NETC contacts for the different districts?

I'll put a system configuration together and fax it over as soon as I get some feedback from John on the requirements or hear from you.

Thanks again for the opportunity.

Gaggle specializes in providing safe, teacher controlled email accounts for students. We currently have over 30 schools from New Mexico signed up for the service.

Can you tell me more about the number of user accounts and the number of school sites you need as well as any special requirements.
